

POWERS' FATE IS IN BALANCE

Celebrated Case is Given to Jury a Georgetown

Many Expect the Jurors
Will Disagree

Aged Mother of Prisoner Sits in Court House Closely Watching Jury Door.

Georgetown, Jan. 2.—3 p. m.—No verdict has yet been rendered in the Powers case.

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 2.—The fate of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the Gov. Goebel assassination, is now in the hands of the jury.
The arguments were completed yesterday, and the jury retired to deliberate at 9:05 o'clock this morning.

The general opinion is that the jury
will disagree.

Major W. C. Owens, for the defense, and Attorney Franklin for the prosecution, concluded their arguments yesterday afternoon. Owens' chief argument was that Henry Youl-sey, a political crank, fired the shot that killed Goebel on his own responsibility, and that Powers was ignorant of any plot to kill Goebel. He made an eloquent appeal for the acquittal of his client.

Attorney Franklin scored the defendant unmercifully in his last appeal to the jury. He declared that to free Powers was to turn the state of Kentucky over into the hands of a hand of assassins.

Powers was in the court room today accompanied by his mother and sister. There are many people in the court room and excitement caused by the expectation that a verdict will be reached is high. No one will predict the outcome. Many expect acquittal, some conviction, but the majority of the people believe the jury will fail to agree. The fact that it disagreed on the first proposition, that of holding a night session, seems to indicate that all are not of one mind.

As the minutes pass, the anxiety of the aged mother of Powers increases.
A quick report, she and her friends felt, would mean acquittal for her son. She sits with head bowed, watching anxiously the door to the jury room.

Opposite sat the commonwealth's attorney and Arthur Goebel, apparently confident that Powers will be found guilty, but feeling that the delay meant that the hard legal battle is not yet at an end.

GIRL "RAFFLES"

Guest at Newark Party Stole Five Dollars and Finally Confessed to Capt. Bell.

Newark is one of the few cities in Ohio that has a girl raffles. But there is one here and her specialty seems to be parties. Tuesday night there was a party in the city, and shortly after midnight Captain Bell was called to the scene of the festivities to inquire into a robbery.

One of the guests had appropriated a lady's handkerchief in which was a quarter, also a five dollar bill.
The girl suspected was given the "third degree," and finally confessed after she had been promised that she would not be locked up. Under a carpet she pulled out the bill and from her waist the handkerchief and fifteen cents were taken. Ten cents she had spent.

DR. W. H. KNAUSS IS APPOINTED HEALTH OFFICER

J. D. Harris Named for City Weigh-master by Service Board—Mr.
Crilly's Bond Filed.

The Board of Public Service on Thursday morning appointed Dr.
Wm. H. Knauss as health officer of the city of Newark. Dr. Knauss is one of the best known physicians in the city, having lived here for 11 years. He was formerly in partnership with Dr. C. H. Stimson. Dr.

Knauss filed his bond of $1000 at once and was immediately sworn in as health officer.

Mr. J. D. Harris was among the lucky ones to pick the plums from the service tree, and Thursday morning he was appointed city weigh-master.

Mr. A. J. Crilly, who was appointed superintendent of Cedar Hill cemetery, furnished bond in the sum of $1000 to the service board Thursday morning.

MRS. MEEK NEEDS SOME ASSISTANCE

Mrs. Harriet Meek, who is said to have been deserted three months ago by her husband, George Meek, is in very destitute circumstances.

It is alleged that the husband came back to the city recently, and while Mrs. Meek was out of her room on East Main street, removed all the furniture to his apartments on Chestnut street. This left Mrs. Meek without any place to stay and as she was on the verge of starvation and unsheltered, she was taken in by Mrs. Bryson of 131 Elmwood avenue, who on account of lack of room, can only give her temporary shelter.

Mrs. Meek, from all reports, is a worthy woman, and her case should be looked into. The township trustees will investigate the case Thursday.

J. E. Pillsbury will succeed Admiral Brownson as chief of the navigation bureau.

STAND PAT CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 2.—Prominent leaders have arrived at an understanding that the Sixtieth congress will be a "do nothing, stand pat" session, which will inaugurate practically no important legislation; steer clear of all questions which might endanger the political prophecies of the swarming Republican candidates and finally adjourn, not later than the 22d of April instead of the first week in June.

GOV. HUGHES IS AGAINST GAMBLING

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Governor Hughes, in his message to the legislature recommends that the constitutional prohibition of pool selling, or book-making or any other kind of gambling within the state be enforced.

If the legislature adopts his recommendation there can be no betting on the race tracks in New York city, Buffalo and Saratoga, and without the betting the race tracks cannot operate.

FATALLY WOUNDED IN A GUN DUEL

Owingsville, Ky., Jan. 2.—A. J.
Ballard engaged in a shotgun duel with Albie and Boone Henry, brothers, at Yale, a mining town. Ballard and Boone Henry were fatally wounded. Further trouble is feared.

LATE TELEGRAMS BOILED DOWN

Dr. Haines at Chicago reported today that he had found strychnine in Rev. Albert Gisp's stomach. An arrest is expected.

The bodies of Irving Baker, wife and 4 children were found at Leib-hardt, N. Y., today. It is believed Baker, crazed, killed his family and himself.

The administration will not go after Harriman personally, but will soon black the Union and Southern Pacific combine, says a Washington telegram today.

The belief grows that the Canadian liner, Mt. Royal, with 400 people, is lost in mid-ocean.

Chief Bobroff was assassinated at Samara, Russia, today.

JOHN THIRY, AGED 86, FATHER OF NEW BABY GIRL

JOHN H. THIRY AND FAMILY

New York, Jan. 2.—John H. Thiry, school commissioner of Long Island City, who became a father at the age of eighty-six on December 28, is the jolliest man in town.
Little Marie, the new arrival, was weighed and the scales marked ten and one-half pounds. The babe is particularly healthy.
"It is this way," explained Mr.
Thiry. "I am a more athletic man at eighty-six than most men at half my age. I have lived regularly, have eaten, drunk, worked and slept at regular hours."

RIOTING RESUMED AT MUNCIE

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 2.—Rioting was resumed today, and the police seemed helpless. A crowd drove the crews from every car and broke out the windows. A mob of nearly 3,000 is now on its way to the Union Traction car barns and power station, which it is feared will be burned. The chief of police and 50 deputies are endeavoring to head off the mob. The traction company and police sought to prevent further bloodshed and destruction of property by taking all the cars to the barns. It is believed the militia will be called out at once.

The city was quiet today after the riot of last night in which two men were shot and several beaten. The street car company's efforts to operate the cars with strike breakers caused the trouble. Today three cars were started, each manned by 7 to 9 strike breakers and guarded by policemen. No passengers rode.

Four companies of militia are being held under arms at Indianapolis, and part of them may be rushed here before midnight. Muncie is a hot bed of unionism, but many men who took part in yesterday's riot are at work today. The strike resulted from the company's refusal to renew an old contract with the men.

HEBRON EVENTS

Masonic and I. O. O. F. Installations
—Frank Zirkle Painfully Hurt
by 18 Foot Fall.

Hebron, O., Jan. 2.—The I. O. O. F.
installation will occur Saturday night, January 4, followed by a banquet at
I. O. O. F. hall.

The E. and A. M. lodge met on Tuesday evening to install their newly elected officers. At the conclusion of the work light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Augusta McClintock of Cleveland is spending her vacation with her sister here.

Miss Maude Bebout is visiting with her cousin, Mary Lois Geiger, on Basil street.

Frank Zirkle met with a very painful accident by falling 18 feet from a haymow on the Franklin farm, now occupied by Mr. Joann Price. Owing to a severe rain storm Monday morning, Mrs. Zirkle, who was out trapping, sought shelter in the barn, and in climbing to the haymow slipped and fell to the floor. He was unconscious when found several hours after by Mr. Price, who brought him to Hebron where his injuries were attended to. Fortunately no bones were broken, but he was badly bruised and suffers much pain.

The condition of Mr. Chas. Rockey, who has been ill for the past year, is reported to be some better.

A fine driving horse belonging to Mr. Roshen stepped on a bottle which broke and a piece of the glass penetrated into the foot and blood poison is feared.

6000 CALL ON THE PRESIDENT

Washington, January 2.—President Roosevelt received at the White House a New Year's throng of well-wishers which was three hours in passing. Mrs. Roosevelt and the wives of the cabinet members were his assistants. Fifty-six hundred and forty-five people called.

The Minjo Junction bank, closed
November 9, re-opened today.

LIEUTENANT LAHM HOPES TO LIFT TROPHY.

LIEUTENANT FRANK P. LAHM, U.S.A.

New York, Jan. 2.—Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, U. S. A., who for three months has been making an investigation for the War department into the use of dirigible balloons, has returned home.

"It was too bad that American could not have kept that cup," he said, "but we shall bring it back next year, for it is not gone for good. I have just learned that Berlin has been selected as the location for the next race in October, and that is extremely gratifying, as I doubt if a ed."

PRETTY YOUNG GIRL ATTEMPTS TO KILL HERSELF WITH POISON BUT DOCTORS SAVE HER LIFE

Pretty and young, but despondent over her inability to secure work, Gladys Webb, 16 years of age, attempted suicide Tuesday night at midnight by swallowing four draughts of laudanum. Although she did not tell of her act until nearly noon Wednesday, the prompt work of physicians saved her life.

Miss Gladys worked at the Heisey factory some time ago, but recently has been out of employment, and despite all her efforts the coveted position could not be found. She worried over the state of affairs, especially as she and her sister, Viola, lived together in a cottage, 23 Bolin's alley, and during her idleness Viola supported them both by her work in the Newark Steam Laundry.

Telling a druggist a plausible story, she secured half an ounce of the drug, and about midnight Tuesday she swallowed the contents of the bottle. The sisters then retired, but about two hours afterwards Gladys became very sick and was forced to vomit several times. She did not tell her sister of the poison she had taken and both girls slept until 11 o'clock New Year's day. Gladys was still very sick and weak, and as her sister Viola was forced to go to work, she phoned to a younger sister residing in another part of town, to come and stay with her.

It was then that Gladys confessed to taking the drug. Thoroughly frightened her sister telephoned to Mrs. Barnes and McClure, who after some little work, managed to save her life. The girl regained consciousness about 10 o'clock Wednesday night, and Thursday morning was resting comfortably, though still very weak.

Viola vigorously denies that there was a love affair responsible for her sister's attempt on her own life. The father of the girls, John Webb, resides in Hanover.

THAW'S DEFENSE CLOSELY GUARDED BY HIS COUNSEL

BIG SURPRISE LIABLE TO BE SPRUNG IF IDA SIMONTON TESTIFIES.

Witness Was Sought at First Trial,
But She Was Reported to Be in Africa.

New York, Jan. 2.—On the eve of Thaw's second trial, rumors are afloat that he has had a disagreement with his wife. Stress is laid on the fact that Evelyn has ceased her daily visits. It was stated today that Mrs. Thaw would visit her husband later today. If she does it will be her first call since Sunday.

New York, Jan. 2.—"We are all ready for Ida Simonton," said Martin W. Littleton, chief counsel for Harry Kendall Thaw, in speaking of new features that will appear during the second trial of his client for the murder of Sanford White.

"I am not going to give away any of the plans that have been formed for the defense of Mr. Thaw, but I feel free to say that there are likely to be some surprises if Ida Simonton is called as a witness for the prosecution."

"Miss Simonton was sought as a witness during the first trial, but was reported to be in Africa. Recently she returned to Pittsburgh and stated that she would 'fix Thaw.'"

Miss Simonton was a close friend of Mrs. Thaw when she was Evelyn Nesbit, and Miss Simonton was called to Europe to bring Mrs. Charles J.
Hobman, mother of Evelyn Nesbit, back to America at the time Evelyn Nesbit and Thaw were making a trip on the continent.

It was evident from the manner in which Mr. Littleton spoke that the Thaw forces have been digging deeply into all matters regarding Miss Simonton in preparation for her appearance as a hostile witness.

"I suppose the calling of Miss Simonton by the District Attorney will be one of the interesting new features of the second trial," said Thaw's counsel, "but we are prepared for that step. We are ready for Miss Simonton if she wishes to 'get even with Thaw,' I believe she is reported to have said."

"It would not be right for me to say in what way we are ready, for if the prosecution is trying to surprise us we cannot announce our plans in advance. For that reason I must still refuse to state whether our plans for the new trial provides for the appearance of Mrs. Thaw at a witness."

"She is ready to appear, if needed, but we have mapped out a new line of defense, and I will not commit myself one way or the other on the question of Mrs. Thaw being asked to retell her story. I have seen definite statements made in the newspapers to the effect that she will testify, and that she will not go upon the stand, but I can say positively that no person knows that fact as yet excepting myself, and I have not told any one."

"There will be several other new features to the case, but if I should mention any of them, even those of minor importance, they might serve as a clue to our general course as now completely, and I believe, satisfactorily mapped out."

12, is under arrest charged with cutting his wife's throat. Mrs. Gable is

REPUBLICANS

Will Hold Primary in February—The State Convention to be Held Next Month.

Columbus, Jan. 2.—Primaries early in February and the state convention early in March with J. R. Garfield as chairman, are on the program for the Republican state committee meeting which was held this afternoon. The Taft men will control the meeting, and will do as they please insofar as the dispute between Foraker and Taft is concerned.

Early primaries will be held to settle the question of whether Ohio favors Taft or Foraker for president.
The fight will be upon the one issue alone. Then, say the Taft men, it doesn't matter when the convention is held since it will do no more than formally ratify the result of the primaries. The convention will be held early in March to give the candidates for state offices an opportunity to work among the delegates.

Senator Dick is here, but says he will not inflict his personal desires on the committee.

Reform Waves and Panic Winds Keep Party Navigators Anxious

Through the misty pros and cons of administrative responsibility and of ambitious party leaderships the weather-wise American citizen sees Consensus—with a big C—as the unknown factor in the coming national campaign, judging from the signs of 1907. The great American public has begun to think about a few things, and that's what has kept the political pot a-boiling.

One thing the year makes clear to the most casual observer—the line between the old Democracy and the old Republicanism no longer exists. It is now a question of conservative and radical on which both these historic parties are being rent transversely. The same head winds which made the year's voyage a hard one for President Roosevelt and his administration served to bring the Bryan vessel into the port of a third Democratic nomination, now generally conceded, and yet the leader of the opposition presents the unusual spectacle of smiling approval of much of the Roosevelt programme. Theodore Roosevelt began to experience powerful opposition for the first time in his own party while the popular cry for a third term grew louder. In his own state a new figure, that of Governor Hughes, was attracting much attention by his quiet way of bringing the Republican organization to his feet, appealing direct to the people for his measures of reform, chief of which was the creation of the public service commissions for state and city, with power to bring the utility corporations to terms.

It was on the morning of APRIL 2 that the president woke up to find himself on the defensive by the publication of the Harriman letter telling of an alleged deal between Roosevelt and Harriman in 1904. At once the president published his Sherman letter telling of Harriman's brag that he could buy laws and judges ad libitum, for which the president had classed him along with Debs, Moyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens." This incident assumed great significance owing to the fact that organized labor resented the slur upon the Western Federation of Miners about to be tried for their lives. Much was made by the enemies of Roosevelt of the remark in his letter to Harriman that "you and I are practical men."

In the face of the increasing hostility of many wealthy citizens the president persisted in promulgating his reform policies, notably in his Memorial day speech at Indianapolis, advocating the theory of federal control of railroads under the postal clause of the constitution; at Provincetown, Mass., AUG. 20, where in laying the cornerstone of the Pilgrims monument he charged "certain malefactors of great wealth" with conspiring to depress business in the hope of discrediting his policies in the eyes of the people, and again in his series of speeches at the dedication of the McKinley tomb at Canton SEPT. 30 and on his ensuing southern tour.

Almost the same sentiments were expressed by Secretary of War Taft in the series of addresses beginning at Columbus, O., AUG. 19, in which he took his stand as a candidate for the Republican nomination as the chosen defender of the administration. Such was the launching of the Taft boom, a dramatic feature being his start on the long journey around the world.

In the meantime all the anti-administration strength in Ohio had been summoned into action by the avowed candidacy of Senator Foraker, who glories in his differences with the president.

Furthermore, all the legal and executive machinery of the government was being brought into action against the big railroad, oil, coal and other combinations. Secrets of the Standard Oil company were laid bare and its head baled into a federal court, after which came the big Landis fine. In a defiant interview John D. Rockefeller openly attacked the administration and predicted "financial chaos," as the harvest, referring to himself as being "hit into the cart in which the people ride." That was in July. Well, by the middle of August stocks were tumbling, and the rest is part of the business record.

Whether justly or unjustly, the administration was blamed by many when the panic came, and besides the gibe of Chancellor Day about the "raid on prosperity" Roosevelt received hard knocks from such sources as ex-Senator Spooner and Justice Brewer, the latter charging the president with "playing peckaloo with the American people" about the third term. In November the president did order federal employees to desist from efforts for a third term delegation, and after the national committee met at Washington recently the country heard from the White House again definitely that a nomination would not be accepted. The message to congress DEC. 3 was a stand pat valedictory.

The staying power of the Twice Defeated and his hold on the affections of the Democratic rank and file in the face of a concerted effort to discredit him by a clique of the rich and powerful conservatives still in control of the party machinery made one of the political wonders of the year. After his open exposure of the national and state ownership of railroads last year the current ran very strong against Mr. Bryan in the party. This situation he met last April by frankly saying that he had come to the conclusion that the people were not ready for the ownership idea yet and that regulation must be tried out on Democratic lines. This did not prevent him from championing the initiative and referendum programme. Not until the middle of November did he definitely announce his willingness again to accept the nomination. No opposition appeared.

At least one course of legislation was grist to the Bryan mill. While the overshadowing bulk of federal power was tumbling over a rate bill in 1906 and the reorganized interstate commerce commission in 1907 was struggling with the vast problem of keeping tab on the railroad managements the idea that the humble state governments could impose lower rates by legislative enactment took root and made a remarkable growth. Missouri joined the procession by March, and the courts arrested with the railroad men to give the two cent rate a trial for ninety days, after which opinions still differed. Other states to pass rate bills were Pennsylvania and Michigan in April and New York, Illinois and Minnesota in May. But the New York bill never became a law owing to the veto of Governor Hughes on the ground of being not carefully weighed. In all the states where these laws were passed litigation against them has been begun by the railroads affected.

The drift toward public ownership took the shape of state commissions with new powers and was felt in the elections of Busse in Chicago, Johnson in Cleveland and in the fifty year traction transfer ordinance in Philadelphia.

The American people are "sobering up." This expression applies to one of the most significant political movements in which the conscience vote appears. When the returns of the November elections were in, no one result attracted more general attention than the fact that the wave of "dryness" which had been sweeping over the south had made itself felt in Delaware, Kentucky and Illinois and was gathering impetus sufficient to carry it far into the north and west. Georgia has gone into the strict prohibition column under a law in effect on New Year's day, and the new state of Oklahoma came into the Union with a prohibitory clause in that radical constitution of hers, making five prohibition states. But many others are virtually so on local option lines, the dry sections increasing until it is now estimated that half the population of the nation are living in communities free from the public saloon. Other features of the November elections were the capture of Salt Lake City from the Mormons, the election of Dr. Taylor as the reform mayor of San Francisco over the powers of graft, the Republican sweep of Kentucky by 14,000, Democratic retention of Rhode Island and the cutting down of the Republican lead in New Jersey and the defeat of the Hearst-Republican fusion by Tammany in New York city, besides the victory of Johnson in Cleveland, already referred to.

The Administration's Notable Executive Acts.

After considerable hesitation and the tentative acceptance of the lowest bid, made by W. I. Oliver, for the Panama canal contract the president finally decided last March to keep the whole undertaking in government hands and appointed Major Goethals of the army engineer corps to head the canal commission and take entire charge, both Shonts and Stevens having resigned.

The president checked the California legislature in its anti-Japanese course by promising to bring about the exclusion of Jap laborers by diplomatic means and by congressional action.

Secretary McCall started the country JULY 4 by declaring that the entire Atlantic fleet of warships would make the unprecedented mobilization in Pacific waters, a statement which was backed by the president and which has now been borne out by the fact of the sailing of the great armada under the command of Admiral Evans from Norfolk Dec. 16.

In March the president gave official impetus to the river deepening movement by appointing a waterways commission, headed by Burton of Ohio, and later in November made his great popular journey down the Mississippi with a dozen state governors to attend the waterways convention at Memphis.

A general shakeup in the Roosevelt cabinet occurred in March, when Postmaster General Cortelyou was transferred to the treasury portfolio upon the retirement of Secretary Shaw. George von L. Meyer succeeding Cortelyou as postmaster general. The interior department vacancy created by the retirement of H. H. Cook was filled by advancing Commissioner of Corporations Garfield, the corporations post being filled by Herbert K. Smith. Giving up the idea of joint statehood, the president signed NOV. 16 the act by virtue of which Oklahoma became a state, and on that day Governor Haskell and his Democratic administration assumed office under the longest and most radical constitution in the nation, including such features as prohibition, corporation books open to public truth to determine libel suits and the initiative and referendum. This constitution, adopted APRIL 19, had been ratified at the polls by an overwhelming majority, and two of the leaders in the constitutional convention—T. P. Gore, who is totally blind, and Robert L. Owen—were chosen as the first Oklahoma members of the United States senate.

The closing session of the Fifty-ninth congress was remarkable chiefly for the number of things which it did not do or at least which it barely did for the other to undo. The more important bills which became laws were for the trainmen's sixteen hour workday, for the service pension and for the exclusion of Japanese laborers. The salaries of senators and congressmen were raised. The session was known as the first billion dollar session, although the official figures for the appropriations were $920,798,149. The Sixtieth congress, which came into being DEC. 2 under the Cannon-Alldrich leadership, has started off with a do-nothing-hastily policy.

Graft and Rebate Cases Fill the Court Calendars.

The great chase started in 1906 with the Roosevelt challenge to the Standard Oil company and to all law defying trusts has gathered impetus in 1907, when the whole pack of state and federal law officers has been in full cry after the game. The year will long be remembered for the vicious bite which the oil trust got from one federal judge—namely, the $29,240,000 fine imposed AUG. 3 by Judge Landis at Chicago as the maximum penalty for accepting a large number of rebates from the Alton. But this was only one of a large number of criminal prosecutions laid against the Rockefeller aggregation. Indictments containing thousands of counts were brought in Ohio, Missouri, Texas, Tennessee, Minnesota, New York and elsewhere until the total maximum of fines possibly exceeded the probable income of the trusts. The principal action of the government for the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, which was begun at St. Louis NOV. 15, 1906, still remains to be fought out, but in his examination of witnesses at New York in September Government's Counsel Kellogg virtually pilloried the oil trust before the people by compelling its officials to reveal the various processes through which it has monopolized the oil industry. Missouri and Texas finally barred all Standard companies.

Other actions against so called trusts were numerous, and rebate fines were imposed in several cases.

The following are the supreme court decisions of general interest: Dismissal of the Kansas petition against diversion of Colorado river by the state of Colorado, involving the principle that congress cannot limit the action of courts after creating them; the eight hour federal workday law sustained; rate fixing section of the federal law sustained.

Along with the building of a new San Francisco there has been a cleansing of its official and political rottenness. First, under pressure of cumulative evidence, came the flight and confession of Abraham Ruef, manager of the corrupt city machine, in May. His confession implicating Mayor Schmitz in the acceptance of bribes rendered by a jury against the mayor MAY 13 and his sentence JULY 8 to five years' imprisonment. It also made possible the indictments against several millionaire bribe givers and the conviction of one of them, Glass, who received a five year sentence.

Pennsylvania saw the work of the capital investigators bear fruit. Gradually District Attorney Jerome of New York has got insurance evidence before the grand jury, and indictments have begun to issue against officials, one of whom, Walter K. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual, was convicted of perjury and sentenced to six months.

When in July Judge Pritchard is sued his federal order against the execution of the North Carolina rate law, thus saving from the chain gang officials of the Southern convicted in state court of having sold tickets for more than the legal rate, Governor Glenn arose in his might to back up the state court. Finally the Southern gave in for the sake of peace and made a special agreement with Glenn, Finlay revising his petition so as to let the cases take their course rapidly to the supreme court for final test of the law. Much the same situation existed in Alabama, where Governor Comer was equally resolute when the law was opposed with injunctions granted by Federal Judge Jones on one pretext or another. The Minnesota rate law also was held up by Federal Judge Lochner's injunction in September. The Pennsylvania railroad, after raising commutation rates when the two cent law went into effect SEPT. 1, began a test case through the state courts.

It is not within the purpose of this history to recount the long list of crimes and criminal trials of the year which were chiefly of interest in the localities where they occurred. But the murder conspiracy charges brought by the state of Idaho against the officials of the Western Federation of Miners in connection with the death of former Governor Steunenberg was an event of national, even international, importance. Secretary Haywood, as the strong man of the federation, was the first to be placed on trial MAY 8, after the whole country had been stirred up by the preliminary efforts of organized labor and the Socialist papers to raise funds for his defense and to get their view of the matter before the public—namely, that the whole case was a conspiracy of the mine owners to crush the federation. The publication of the Roosevelt letter classing the accused men along with Harriman as "undesirable citizens" had fanned the controversy into intense heat. The result was seen to depend mainly on the ability of the state to corroborate the Orchard confession. Here opinions differed, but in the end the jury voted "No" after considering a vast amount of testimony on both sides and hearing the lengthy pleas of Darrow and Richardson for the defense and of Borah and Hawley for the state, for they brought in the acquittal verdict JULY 23, and Haywood walked forth a free man, and as his friends believed, vindicated man. Indeed, he was talked of as the coming Moses to lead the Socialist hosts out of the wilderness. His enemies said the jury was intimidated into the verdict. President Moyer was released on heavy bail, but Pettibone was held and put on trial in December.

Several other trials for capital crimes stand out above the mass. That of Harry Thaw, the wealthy young Pittsburger who shot Stanford White, making an international sensation partly because of the reputation of his wife and partly because of the appeal to the "unwritten higher law," for which Counsel Delmas invented the new term, "dementia Americana." It availed only to the extent of a disagreement APRIL 12. The appeal to the "higher law" was not in vain in the Virginia cases of the Strothers boys and Judge Loving, the Maryland case against Mrs. Bowie and the District of Columbia case against Mrs. Bradley, in all of which the ill treatment of a woman was the basis, although insanity was used as the nominal defense, as also in the Thaw case.

How Foreign Lands Have Met Their Crises.

How the paths trod by the various nations of the civilized world tend to converge toward a common ground of experience, understanding and sympathy may be observed in the span of a single year.

ENGLAND.—In the hands of the Liberal crew, with Premier Campbell-Bannerman at the wheel, King Edward's ship of state has groped its way forward through gathering clouds of social unrest and industrial depression, getting some pretty hard bumps. Fear of the rising tide of Socialism brought Conservatives and Liberals virtually into the same camp. Decisive moves made by the Bannerman government were the passage of church disestablishment in principle by the commons in February, the alliance with Spain in March, the appropriation of $7500,000 for old age pensions next year, the proposal of an Irish home rule bill providing an elective national council subject to veto of lord lieutenant, but which was withdrawn after being rejected by the Irish party, in May, the proposal to abolish the veto power of the house of lords passed by the commons JUNE 26 by a vote of 482 to 137, and the reference of the Newfoundland fishery dispute with America to The Hague tribunal. The government resisted with much difficulty the growing movement for woman suffrage.

JAMAICA.—The affront to the United States in the election of Admiral Davis from Kingston when his men had volunteered help to the earthquake sufferers was appeased by the retirement of Governor Swettenham.

CANADA.—The influx of orientals culminated in serious riots at Vancouver SEPT. 5, for which due apologies were made to Japan. The new Lord's day law went into effect, making the Canadian Sunday as blue as a whetstone.

RUSSIA.—The revolution of force has taken a year off, comparatively speaking. While the organization of terrorists has made itself felt in the assassination of a number of army and provincial officials, beginning in January with General Pavloff, known as the "Haugman," and including several plots against the life of the czar himself, the forward movement in Russia has contented itself with the progressive propaganda of the press and education. The second douma, which was opened MARCH 5, clashed with the government from the start over the question of martial law throughout the country. After the douma had repealed a portion of the court martial code and the premier had demanded the expulsion of members suspected of treason, suddenly the douma was dissolved by a virtual military coup d'etat JUNE 16. Under a new electoral programme intended to exclude the Socialist and radical elements, a third douma was chosen and began its sessions NOV. 7, a combination of Constitutional Democrats and Octobrists in control.

GERMANY.—The government of Emperor William had the satisfaction of decreasing the numerical strength of the Socialists in the reichstag as the result of the February elections, and Chancellor von Bulow took this to be a vote of confidence notwithstanding that the Socialists were able to point to the fact that their popular vote had greatly increased, the reduction in their representation being due to the anomalous electoral laws. The government was greatly embarrassed over the exposure of immoral life among high court and army officials by Editor Harden of Zunkunf, who was acquitted in October of the charge of defamation preferred by Count von Moltke.

FRANCE.—The Clemenceau ministry, steering the republic through a period of internal disturbances closely resembling civil war, past the dangerous waters of church and state separation, and has begun a costly war of discipline and repression in Morocco. The serious revolt of the wine growers came to a head in May under the leadership of M. Albert, with the resignation of many city mayors and councils in affected districts and the sympathetic mutiny of some of the troops sent to restore order. Gradually the government got the situation in hand after promising legislative measures to restrict the operations of the sugar using wine growers.

MOROCCO.—On AUG. 6 the French and Spanish warships at Casablanca joined in a bombardment of the town on the pretext that native tribesmen had drawn the local government so as to endanger Christian lives. Later the Spaniards withdrew, and the French forces took entire control of the city and engaged in a series of battles with the attacking tribesmen.

AUSTRIA.—The universal suffrage bill was accepted in January by the upper house of the reichsrath; thus the franchise was conferred on every male Austrian twenty-four years old. The ensuing elections in May were won by the Socialist and Radical parties. BELGIUM.—The parliament in May took over the control of the Congo, King Leopold having withdrawn his opposition.

SWEDEN.—Universal suffrage and proportional representation were put into effect in Sweden, whose venerable King Oscar died DEC. 8 and was succeeded by Gustav V. SPAIN.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria pre-empted the Spanish people with an heir to the throne. PORTUGAL.—Opposition to the virtual dictatorship of Premier Blanco under King Carlos almost reached the point of open rebellion in November. PERSIA.—On JAN. 7, Mozaffar ed Din died and was succeeded by his eldest son, Mohammed Ali Mirza. The long-standing rivalry between Great Britain and Russia over their spheres of influence in Persia was settled by an agreement giving the southern section to the British and the northern half to the Russians.

JAPAN.—The Japanese finished their "benevolent absorption" of Korea by forcing the resignation of the Korean emperor in favor of Crown Prince Enyuia Yee JULY 17, who became the mere puppet of the Japanese regime. The anti-American feeling in Japan rose to great proportions last spring over the anti-Japanese riots in San Francisco and the segregation of oriental pupils in the public schools of that city.

PHILIPPINES.—The first elections under the American regime resulted in a victory for the Nationalist, or independence, party, and the first assembly was opened at Manila OCT. 16 by Secretary Taft, who said that no promises could be made about the date of granting full independence.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—Nicaragua, with the aid of Honduran revolutionists, began a war, upon Honduras in February, which culminated MARCH 27 in the capture of the Honduran capital and the flight of President Bonilla. The war ended APRIL 13 with the surrender of Amapala, Bonilla having sought the protection of an American warship. Later all of the Central American states were prevailed upon by American and Mexican diplomats to send representatives to a peace conference which began at Washington in November.

Science, Religion, Ethics and Education.

On NOV. 7 at Paris Henry Farman went Dumont one better by navigating a heavier than air flying machine so as to turn a complete circle back to his starting place. Count Zeppelin in his great 420 foot aluminium airship, capable of carrying ten passengers, late in October took a party of friends on the record flight of 7 hours and 20 minutes, moving in all directions at will and with an average speed of thirty miles an hour. The American city of St. Louis was the scene of the second great international airship tournament, OCT. 21 to 23, but it was the German balloon Pommern, navigated by Oscar Eriksloh, which won the distance race with a voyage to the brink of the Atlantic at Asbury Park, N. J., 873 miles. Lincoln Beachley of Omaha won the dirigible race by sailing a two mile circuit in 4 minutes and 30 seconds. Wellman's airship was wrecked in September in a trial flight on Dane's island, and his polar journey was deferred.

In mechanics the new and compelling wonder of the year was the application of the gyroscope principle by Louis Brennan in England to the operation of a model monorail system of transportation. The British government took it up after the public demonstration, MAY 8, and many now look for an industrial revolution from the idea.

The bishop of Rome came to assist in laying the cornerstone of the great Episcopal cathedral at Washington SEPT. 29 and to attend the triennial convention at Richmond. This body took the progressive step of opening all its pulpits to ministers of other denominations. The march toward church unity continued.

The church of Rome took a decided stand against all the more radical tendencies of the time grouped under the term "modernism," with express prohibition of all literature containing ideas contrary to the dogmas, for which purpose a college of censors is to be established by the bishops.

The cause of universal peace for which civic and church bodies throughout the world worked with increasing fervor was advanced chiefly through the work of the second international conference at The Hague, lasting from JUNE 25 to OCT. 18. While the efforts to establish an international court of justice and an agreement for obligatory arbitration were unsuccessful in this conference, over which M. Neidoff presided, the principle of obligatory arbitration was affirmed, and only a few of the smaller nations dissented from the permanent court on the ground of its proposed membership.

By a large majority, including all the great powers, the principle of inviolability of private property at sea, as proposed by the American delegation, headed by Choate and Porter, was established. Restrictions were placed upon the use of floating mines, the bombardment of undefended towns was forbidden and measures adopted for the protection of noncombatants, relief of wounded and against privateering. The Porter resolution forbidding collection of debts by force until after arbitration had been refused or an award set at naught was adopted unanimously.

After having started the year with an additional gift of $3,000,000 to the University of Chicago, John D. Rockefeller, through the general education board, broke all records of educational endowments by giving $32,000,000 to be used chiefly for the benefit of the smaller colleges and first of all for the women's colleges. The result of another great educational foundation was seen in the dedication of the Carnegie Technical schools at Pittsburgh APRIL 12, upon which Messrs. Carnegie and Rockefeller patted each other on the back.

The campaign of the New York women for "equal pay for equal work" was checked by Governor Hughes' veto of the bill, which had been passed over Mayor McClellan's head. Chicago decided to admit adults to the high schools. New York ruled sectarian exercises from the schools. Columbia joined the movement for spelling reform. Swarthmore rejected the $3,000,000 Jeanes bequest rather than accept the condition of abolishing intercollegiate sports.

Faulty Financiering Halts Prosperity's Chariot.

Opinions differ about the causes of the money panic and industrial depression of 1907, but no one disputes the fact. There was a breakdown in the existing system of finance. It happened right after the attempted Heinze copper corner, OCT. 16, when the exposure of stock gambling bankers gave credit a shock that it hasn't got over yet. Before that time the volume of business had been up to the prosperity level, although there had been a fearful shrinkage of stock "values"—mostly water—and several gamblers' panics had disturbed Wall street. Morgan, Rockefeller and Uncle Sam came to the rescue of the big banks with cash. Gold was imported to stop the gap after the Knickerbocker Trust company had gone under. Clearing house certificates and labor checks were used everywhere, and banks suspended cash payments.

Railroads and all the big industries curtailed. Thousands were thrown out of work. Extensive strikes were those of the San Francisco iron and street car men, New York dockmen, Minnesota miners, commercial telegraphers. Arbitration averted western railroad general strike. The Manufacturers' association voted $500,000 for three successive years with which to oppose the closed shop, and the Federation of Labor took up the gage of battle. Atlantic ocean lines engaged in a rate war. Marconi began transatlantic wireless service OCT. 17. The new Cunarder Lusitania made record voyage of 4 days 20 hours, OCT. 11. The cost of living increased. Crops were good, the total value being $7,500,000,000.

Famous Ones Who Went Over the Divide.

The following well known persons passed away: Shah of Persia (Muzaffar ed Din), M. Casimir-Perier, former president of France; Senator Pugh of Alabama; John Alexander Bowie, Zionist leader; M. Berthelot, chemist; T. B. Aldrich, poet; M. Pobedonostzeff, Russian statesman; Galusha A. Grow, statesman; James H. Eckels, financier; Dr. John Watson (Ian MacLaren), writer; Mrs. McKinley, wife of the late president; Thomas H. Ruger, soldier; John T. Morgan, senator; Julia Magruder, novelist; Francis Murphy, temperance reformer; Senator E. W. Pettus; Richard Mansfield, actor; E. H. Grieg, composer; Admiral J. G. Walker; W. O. Atwater, food expert; E. H. Crosby, reformer; Josiah Flynt, sociologist; Senator R. A. Alger of Michigan; Rev. H. M. Field; H. O. Pentecost, reformer; A. C. Gunter, novelist; Dr. W. H. Drummond, poet; E. H. Conner, diplomat; Angelo Heilprin, scientist; Augustine Saint Gaudens, sculptor; Joachim, violinist; Moncure D. Conway, author; Oscar, king of Sweden.

Statistics lacking, it is safe to guess that railroad slaughter exceeded that of any previous year. Weak rails were one excuse advanced. Earthquakes took 400 lives and destroyed $20,000,000 of property at Kingston, Jamaica, JAN. 14, killed 600 at Mount Colima, Mexico, APRIL 13, 12,000 at Karatagh, Turkestan, OCT. 21 and 600 in Calabria, Italy, OCT. 22. The Jamestown exposition was a financial failure.

Conquer That Cough

Fire at Johnson's.

A small blaze in a crate of straw back of the Johnson saloon, West Main street, called the Central, East and North End fire companies out at 10 o'clock this morning. No damage was done. This was the first run of the East End company with its new wagon, and from the new house. The boys are very proud of the fact that they arrived at the fire shortly before the North End company did.

A New Feature.

The reader's attention is directed to a new feature which the Advocate has added to the daily chronology published in the first column of the fourth page. Reference is made to the astronomical feature prepared by the Rev. Frederic Campbell of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Campbell is president of the Department of Astronomy in the Brooklyn Institute, and is a lecturer of note. For the past five years Mr. Campbell conducted a similar department for the Brooklyn Eagle. The new feature began in Wednesday's Advocate.

A. J. CRILLY TAKES CHARGE OF CEDAR HILL

Ex-Mayor A. J. Crilly, the new superintendent of the Cedar Hill cemetery, took charge of the office Wednesday. Mr. Crilly will dispense with the services of a clerk and book-keeper, and will attend to all the duties himself. While there is ample work, yet it is the new superintendent's plan to economize wherever practicable.

The retiring clerk, Mr. John Penney, prepared the following report of last year's work.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.
"The Minister's Son" will be repeated at the Auditorium tonight. Last night's audience was much pleased.

BORCHER'S MINSTRELS.

Yesterday's Columbus papers spoke flatteringly of Borchers' minstrels which played in that city Monday. And as Columbus is the home of minstrelsy their critics should know "what's what" in that line.

Richard, the famous "upside down" artist, joined the aggregation in that city, completing an old second to none in minstrelsy. Keep your eye open for the free street parade Saturday at noon.

Next Tuesday Night.

The coming engagement of "As Told in the Hills" Tuesday evening.

Alberta Lee

Famena, an Indian maiden (Kiawa)

"As Told in the Hills."

January 7, at the Auditorium, will be one of the strongest attractions of the present season. The play is a strongly written melodrama of Western life that abounds in thrilling situations and exciting climaxes.

MISS BOB-WHITE.

Miss Loris Seardsdale, the prima donna of the "Miss Bob-White" company, is a distinct "find" for Nixon & Zimmerman, and incidentally, Frank Deshon, the little comedian of the organization. Miss Seardsdale is a willowy young woman of the blonde type with a high soprano voice of exquisite quality. Auditorium January 9.

ORPHIUM THEATER.

Standing room prevails nightly at the pretty little play house. The troupe of Japs this week are the most wonderful ever seen here. The act is a complete novelty.

Floyd Mack the funny clown, that bumps the bumps, should be seen by all the children in Newark. The Muhlners, comedy sketch artists are making good, with their clean little sketch. Eddie Dwyer has a neat routine and is an artistic dancer. The song and pictures are both good.

Meat is high, fruit is scarce, so buy Mrs. Austin's famous pancake flour. A good, hearty breakfast for little money.

For Cold and Cough

Cure

Simple as it is, there is nothing better for colds and stubborn coughs. Tastes pleasant, too, and can be made at home at small cost.

Granulated Sugar Syrup, 13 1/2 oz. Pinex 2 1/2 oz.

The 2 1/2 oz. of Pinex will cost you 50 cents at any drug store. Put the Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, as required. The pint is enough to last a family a long time. Well corked, it keeps indefinitely.

Pinex is the most concentrated form of Norway white pine extract. It is rich in all the elements that have made the Norwegian pine forests famous in curing consumption and other membrane diseases.

In making up this prescription, do not expect good results unless you use Pinex. It may be that some druggists do not have it, but they can get it for you easily if requested to do so.

UNIFORMED RANK

ELECTS OFFICERS

K. of P. Uniform Rank 121 held an election Wednesday night at their hall. Those elected were:

J. B. Cortney, captain.

Eugene Wolinsky, first lieutenant.

Fred Swank, second lieutenant.

A. J. Crilly, recorder.

Clarence Snelling, treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mr. Wolinsky invited the members to partake of a banquet celebrating his birthday.

Roast pig was the "piece de resistance" and with the concomitants, it made a swell spread. Mr. Warren Brown and Mr. William Tanner served the repast in fine style.

SEVEN MONTH'S OF ROOSEVELT AND HIS PANIC

(New York Local.)
Seven months ago President Roosevelt delivered an address at Indianapolis in which he restated the policies of his Administration and proclaimed that "there can be no halt in the course we have deliberately elected to pursue."
The temper and purpose of that address are made plain in the extracts which follow:

"If we wish to show ourselves worthy heirs of the men of the civil war we must do our tasks with the thoroughness with which they did theirs.
The power of the nation must be exerted to stop crimes of cunning no less than crimes of violence.
As a matter of course we shall punish any criminal whom we can convict under the law, but we have no intention of confounding the innocent many and the guilty few with any ill-judged and sweeping scheme of vengeance.
Most certainly there will be no relaxation by the Government authorities in the effort to get any great railroad wrecker—any man who by clever swindling devices robs investors, oppresses wage-workers and does injury to the general public.
The aim of the National Government is quite as much to favor and protect honest corporations, honest business men of wealth, as to bring to justice those individuals and corporations representing dishonest methods.
There has been plenty of dishonest work by corporations in the past. There will not be the slightest let-up in the effort to hunt down and punish every dishonest man.
Wherever evil-doers can be they shall be brought to justice, and no criminal, high or low, whom we can reach will receive immunity.
One great problem that we have before us is to preserve the rights of property, and these can only be preserved if we remember that they are in less jeopardy from the socialist and the anarchist than from the predatory man of wealth.

With how much militant, civil-war thoroughness has Mr. Roosevelt pursued the task of punishing any criminal, high or low, whom he could reach under the law?

Attorney-General Bonaparte has issued another official pamphlet reciting the work of the Administration in curbing lawbreaking corporations. This pamphlet fails to show that a single "great railroad wrecker" has been prosecuted, or that a solitary "malefactor of great wealth" has been so much as indicted for violating either the Sherman Anti-Trust law or the Interstate Commerce law.
It was nearly four years ago that Judson Harmon and Frederick N. Judson, in their report to the President on the Santa Fe rebate cases, informed Mr. Roosevelt that "guilt is always personal." The same idea is presented in Woodrow Wilson's plea that the best way to discourage wealthy malefactors is to "send the one responsible man to jail." This sentiment has been publicly approved by men who look at national questions from such widely different viewpoints as Cardinal Gibbons, Representative McCall of Massachusetts, and former Governor Black of New York. Yet in spite of all Mr. Roosevelt's burning words about crimes of cunning, great railroad wreckers and malefactors of great wealth, in no case has the one responsible man been sent to jail; in no case has the one responsible man been criminally prosecuted; in no case has the one responsible man even been indicted.
If there has been "not the slightest let-up" in the effort to "hunt down and punish every dishonest man," if "no criminal, high or low," has received immunity, how does it happen that during the seven months that have elapsed since the Indianapolis speech the Administration has not instituted criminal proceedings against any "predatory man of wealth"—the class that Mr. Roosevelt holds to be more dangerous than either socialist or anarchist? Either conditions were not what the public had a right to assume from the President's passionate, denunciatory speeches, or there has been a "halt in the course we have deliberately elected to pursue."

Was Punch right, after all, when it cartooned President Roosevelt as a rocking-horse crusader, "brave, dashing, and dauntless," but never getting anywhere?

OVER 600 VISIT POULTRY SHOW JAN. 1

MORE THAN 800 CHICKENS IN ARMOY ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION.

Expert Judge Will Not Finish Scoring Before Friday—Angora Cats Seen at the Show.

The poultry show now being held at the Armory, under the auspices of the Newark Poultry Association, is an exhibition of which the managers are exceedingly proud, and far eclipses any other show ever held by the association. Over 800 birds are on exhibition.
The attendance is also larger than at any previous exhibition held here. The attendance on Wednesday was over 600.

Notes.
Wick Hathaway the celebrated poultry judge, is in attendance at the show, and says that it is one of the finest he ever attended.

One of the most interesting attractions is the exhibition of Angora cats by Mrs. Dooley, who resides in Clouse's Lane, near Granville.

The attendance thus far is better than was anticipated by the most sanguine, and the indications are that it will be a record breaker.

Judge Todd, of Woodruff, Iowa, is engaged in scoring the birds and will

WEALTHY BEGGAR SEEKS BROADWAY VICTIMS.

CHARLES BERKOWITZ, A FAMOUS NEW YORK BLIND BEGGAR AND HIS NEW ITALIAN GUIDE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Charles Berkowitz, most noted of New York's street beggars and reputed to be a man of wealth, owning tenement houses in Manhattan and Brooklyn, has a new guide, an Italian. Berkowitz is a native of Poland and came to this country when a young man. He was blind. He was arrested first in 1888, when twenty years old, for begging, and said he had $300 in the bank. Since that time, either as a pedlar or playing the organette, he has been soliciting alms, except when serving sentences, or on one or two occasions when on his promise to reform charity organizations have started him in business.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs,
and the early stages of consumption.
Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under

DICKERSON TRIAL

Attorneys Will Confine Trial to One Count of Indictment if Possible.
Plea in Abatement.

Coshocton, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Attorneys Adams and Daugherty have filed their plea in abatement against the two counts of the indictment against Ben Dickerson on which they contend he stands acquitted by the verdict of the first jury sitting in the case. Judge Wickham is to hear argument for and against the plea at Mansfield the 7th of January.

Mr. Adams contends that he has every prospect of having the plea favorably considered by the court.
He admits the ruling cited by Prosecutor McDowell but claims this decision is being misapprehended by the state. While it is true that where a new trial is secured to a defendant on his own motion that all the counts in different ways alleging the same crime are thrown open, it is just as plausible to say that a man cannot twice be put in jeopardy for the same crime. The difference, it is claimed, is that in the Dickerson indictment three different and distinct crimes are alleged and these are all joined in the one finding of the grand jury.
In this case it is possible to join the crimes of larceny and embezzlement in the same indictment but if found guilty of larceny at a new trial a defendant could not again be tried for embezzlement also.

So, Mr. Adams will contend to the court that having been acquitted of murder with premeditated malice and of murder in the perpetration of a criminal assault, Dickerson cannot again be put on trial on these counts and it alone remains to determine

FEAR DR. HAMILTON RICE MAY BE VICTIM OF CANIBALS OF THE AMAZON JUNGLES.

BIRDSEYE VIEW SHOWING WILDER-NESS BETWEEN BOGOTA AND MANAOS WHERE DR. RICE WAS LOST.

whether Mrs. Hughes was killed in the attempt to perpetrate an assault.
The gain from the allowance of this plea in abatement, may be trivial, but Mr. Adams will grasp every straw that may promise to give some help to the accused.

KNIGHTS AND THEIR LADIES TO COSHOCTON

NEWARK PARTY ENTERTAINED NEIGHBORING TOWN FRIENDS
VERY HOSPITALLY.

After Supper Visitors Went to Dance Hall Where the Evening Was Pleasantly Passed.

A large number of the members of St. Luke's Commandery, No. 84, Knights Templar, of this city, the majority of whom were accompanied by their ladies, journeyed to Coshocton to attend the exercises incident to the dedication and constitution of the Commandery at that place.

Seven months ago a dispensation was granted the Coshocton Knights Templar to organize a Commandery in that city. So successful was the work that at the last meeting of the Grand Commandery a charter was granted the Coshocton Commandery, and on Wednesday the Asylum was dedicated and the Commandery constituted.

The Newark Knights and their ladies left on the 12:45 p. m. train and upon their arrival in Coshocton were met by an escort of the Coshocton Commandery and escorted to the Park Hotel, where the ladies were met by a reception committee of Coshocton ladies, after which the Knights formed in line and marched to the Coshocton Commandery Asylum.

The ceremonies of the dedication and constitution were very impressive and were presided over by Right Eminent Grand Commander Ralph R.
Ridley of Columbus, assisted by Past Grand Eminent Commander Thomas C. Kite of Cincinnati, and the other officers of the Grand Commandery were selected from the Past Commanders of the visiting Knights, there being several commanderies represented. The new Commandery will be known as Coshocton Commandery, No. 63. After the officers of the new Commandery had been elected and installed by Eminent Grand Commander Ridley, the commandery was closed and the Knights and ladies marched to the Methodist Episcopal church where fully 300 persons sat down to the fine supper that had been prepared by the ladies of the church.

At the conclusion of the supper the visiting Knights and ladies were escorted to the dancing hall where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. The Newark delegation returned home at about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, all enthusiastic over the good time that had been given them by the Coshocton Knights and ladies.

It is announced in a semi-authori-

DR. HAMILTON RICE.

New York, Jan. 2.—Fears for the safety of Dr. Hamilton Rice of Harvard University, who started last summer on an expedition to explore the head waters of the Amazon, have been only partly allayed by the receipt of a letter from him written at San Martin, Colombia, on September 9 telling of delays at the beginning of his perilous journey.

It is now 29 days past the date which, on setting out from Bogota, he set as the latest possible time of his mission will announce their selection before spring or at least until after the legislative adjourns. Newark has presented her claims and the commission could not will not find a better site than that offered by Licking

CHANGES MIND

Miss Pearl Williams, Decides Not to Marry and Will Return to Johnstown.

Johnstown, Jan. 2.—Miss Pearl
Williams writes from Tullahoma, Tenn., a letter to the Independent in which she says in part:

"I came here (Tullahoma) to be married, but since my arrival and the panic having come I have changed my mind and I want to come back to old Johnstown and be the same to my friends as I have been in the past.

"There has been some improvement in me since my leaving this place and I expected an improvement in the young man to whom I was engaged. However not finding any improvement in him and the being a poor boy having to help support his father and mother, I have decided not to get married.

"My friends here (and most respectable people they are too) have advised me not to marry, and I want to say that my friends here say they are willing to congratulate me for my wise decision. I am coming back soon. Very respectfully,
"Miss Pearl Williams."

GRANVILLE

Granville, Jan. 2.—One of the most enjoyable events of the holiday season in Granville was the "Northport Reunion" held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Carman on Burg street on Wednesday night. The affair was a most unique one and the majority of those present had at some time or other spent a season at the great pleasure resort, Northport, Mich. Those present at the reunion Wednesday night were Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Prof. and Mrs. J. L. Gibbison, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. E. Stevens, Dr. C. J. Baldwin, Mrs. A. T. Cole, Miss Minnie Jones, Dr. R. H. J. Mundy, Mrs. Harriet Hunt, Mrs. Barker, Miss Harriet Barker, dean of Sheppardson college, Prof. and Mrs. R. S. Colwell. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mr. Leroy D. Sargent, a popular member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity of Granville, entertained a number of his Phi Gam friends at his home, corner of College and Pearl street, on Tuesday evening with a 6 o'clock dinner. Among those present were Mr. E. P. Legler of Dayton, Mr. Lake of Columbus, Mr. Goddard, Misses Chrysler, Miss Horton, a cousin of the Misses Chrysler, and Mrs. Irma Sargent. The affair was a most enjoyable one throughout.

Prof. Frank Carney and Prof. Coghill have been in Chicago, where they have been attending the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Prof. Carney read an interesting paper before the convention. Miss Ella Thomas of Bucyrus, who has been visiting relatives and friends here for the past week, returned home Thursday morning.

Edward Fleming of Washington state, is visiting his sister Mrs. John Geach, at her home on Granger street.

Miss Caroline Stevens left Thursday morning for Painesville, O., where she is teacher in the Lake Erie College for Women.

J. E. Carman left Thursday morning for Mt. Vernon and Monroeville. He will visit his friend Mr. M. L. Lowery in Monroeville.

Mrs. Charles Owens of Toledo, spent

New Year's day with friends in Granville.

P. E. Carman has returned from Cambridge, where he has been visiting at the home of his uncle, Rev. D. E. Carman.

FEMININE TOPICS

And it, too, must fade as the leaf To many it will fade as a leaf. The big hat. Paris says so. Paris knows.

Think of the billowing mountains of plumes, ribbons, felt, braid, buckles, chiffon and whatelse that will fall into decay in the several states of the Union when Dame Fashion effects her new ruling.

"It's been a short but happy life for the sky-grazing hat, now in the winter of its reign. It has cost father a pretty penny and has been an awful blow to the girl with a thin face and scant hair."

Paris women are returning to hats of modest dimensions. They say that the big hat shields from view the elaborate hair dressings, which is the rage on the continent, as in the United States.

Father, hubby, theater goer and ladies to whom the big hat was unbecoming, are now invited to join the Smile Club.

There is considerable decline in the prices of underwear, especially the medium grades. The Powers-Miller Co. are offering some very good underwear at half the former price. This is due to overstocking in this department, which, however, would not have been had we had the usual amount of cold weather.

The new year promises exceedingly well from a social and business point of view. Now that the financial stress and anxiety have passed and it is no longer fashionable to talk poverty there is much more entertaining and buying of luxuries for home and personal adornment, and if all the plans being made, materialize, the season will achieve quite a record, after all. The feminine heart will rejoice and be exceedingly glad over the many bargains of every kind now to be had.

The evening coiffure is not complete without its dainty hair ornament and the variety of them that are correct to use is so great this season that it almost becomes a difficulty to select one or two from so many beautiful and becoming things.

A woman's visiting card is of medium size this season and is engraved in the new French script, the address on the right hand corner and the reception day, if she has one, on the left. The correct use and appearance of the visiting card are regulated by custom and style of engraving—but by all means it must be engraved. Have you looked over the line at Norton's book store? The most beautiful cloth finished card for $1.50 per hundred. This price includes the hand engraved copy plate and after you have this plate the only cost is 85 cents for a hundred cards.

Girls, have you forgotten the fact that this is leap year? The importance of this event has been incalculable. There used to be two quadrennial events to which men looked forward with ill concealed interest. One was the presidential election and the other leap year. There may have been men who found the presidential election the more exciting of the two. But those men were all married.

To the unmarried man leap year was a fascinating period, full of all manner of mad pursuits, exciting encounters and hair breadth escapes. Dangerous as it was, they gloried in it, for was there not at the end of the period of trial, the blessed reward of three years' success of sorrow, the absolute surety of peace and freedom, all the more delicious because it had been so hard earned.

It is said that there were three times as many marriages made in that year as in any other.

But all this was before the era of the new woman. Nowadays women are so occupied with careers of their own in art, music and business of all kinds, that matrimony is not as alluring as formerly, so that the probable judge has no more business along this line than is usual in ordinary years.

"Just because he couldn't sing 'Love Me and the World is Mine,' a funny coon song telling how his 'steady gal' handed him 'a nice fat juicy lemon' because of a love song another been had taught her. You get near this popular piece at the American Talking Machine company.

Nothing brighter than a home like flowers. Have you noticed the lovely potted Azaleas in the window at Mrs. Miller's store at 12 East Park place? They are beautiful and are in all shades of pinks, reds and white. They will keep in your home for several months, if kept properly watered. There are also beautiful cut flowers of all kinds.

It don't matter any longer how much hair a woman has of her own—she can own just as much more as her pocketbook will allow, and the more she has the more stylish she is. The embarrassment of wearing more than nature endowed her with, has wholly disappeared, because you can't possibly be up to date without additional puffs, braid, etc.

Many women are subject to severe headaches and nervous attacks but do not realize that it may all come from the need of attention to their eyes. Nothing is so important as the eye-sight and yet so often neglected. Newark is very fortunate in possessing one of the finest optical rooms in the state. Haynes Bros., jewelers and opticians, have spared no expense in equipping their handsome optical room with the best modern methods of correctly testing and fitting the eyes. They use the latest artificial light process in correcting the eyes as this is considered the best because it never varies.

The finest of perfumes are to be had at Smith's drug store.

Isn't it a fact that it costs more to keep a school boy in stockings than all the balance of his clothing. This evil can be overcome by buying the Cadet stockings. They are constructed of a combination of cotton and Irish linen and will outwear three pairs of the ordinary kind and cost no more. The Powers-Miller Co. are exclusive selling agents for these.

After crossing in the back and completely encircling the neck the newest auto veils are tied in a four-in-hand knot in front, with long soft ends flying. This is quite the newest arrangement of that charming, as well as useful, accessory.

There is no reason why every woman should not have an evening coat. One of good weight, yet light in color and handsome in appearance. Some of these very rich garments that formerly sold for $22.00 are now being offered by the Powers-Miller company at $7.50. Better go see them.

If you'll need new rugs or carpets the coming spring it would be advisable to look after them now. You can save, as merchants at this time of the year, are anxious to reduce stocks preparatory to inventory. The Powers-Miller Co. are offering some very choice bargains in this line at the present time.

A great array of rubber goods of all kinds are seen at the Smith drug store.

It used to be necessary for mothers, grandmothers, and aunts to spend months and months preparing for the coming of the stork. Not so now. You can buy everything for the tiny ones ready to wear and much handsomer than you ever laid eyes upon. Many of the little slips and dresses are hand-embroidered and all hand-sewed. These are made by the nuns in the convents. The Powers-Miller Co. make a specialty of this line, devoting an entire department to baby's needs and requirements.

May Be So.

A merry laugh
Cuts down a halt
The sense of loss and sorrow,
So grin away;
Perhaps the gray
Will turn to shine tomorrow.

NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION

And Open House at Y. M. C. A. a Decided Success—Nearly 1800 Visitors Participate.

The open house and reception of the Y. M. C. A. New Year's day was a grand success. Nearly 1,800 visitors attended. Fine music was furnished by McDowell's orchestra.

The art calendar exhibit was one of the best ever held in the city and nearly all the local artists were represented, including Mrs. John Heple, Miss Kate Vance, Miss Nancy Vance, the Misses Mosteller, W. G. Russell and H. M. Wolcott. C. E. Matthews showed a handsome display of calendars.

The entertainment took place in Taylor Hall from 3 to 4 o'clock, and the hall was filled. Readings were given by Miss Gertrude Gardner of Delaware, Miss Irene Chippis, Miss Pearl Ferguson of Granville, sang several beautiful solos. Miss Anna Riegger rendered several pretty piano solos.

The gymnasium exhibition was one of the features and the men and boys all showed the results of training. The program included a fancy march by the Junior class, gymnastics on the horse by the Senior class, apparatus work by the gymnastic team, flying rings by Messrs. Duncan, Williams and Ludwig, wrestling exhibition between Cullen and Duncan, tumbling by Kincaid and Ramsey, and a sword dance by Ludwig and Williams. A luncheon for young men was served.

Secretary Skaman and his able corps are to be congratulated.

GRABBED MAN HANDED HIM TO POLICE

CLINT MCKINNEY CATCHES JOHN LEHEW LEAVING HIS CELLAR.

John Thorp Arrested for Non-Support Will be Given a Hearing Later in the Week.

Clint McKinney, living in Newton township, near Vanatta, does not need officers of the law to protect himself or his property—he is entirely capable of looking after his interests himself. Wednesday morning Mr. McKinney was surprised to see his cellar door, that is in the house, open, and the figure of a man climb out. But Mr. McKinney didn't ask any questions. He just grabbed the intruder and brought him to Newark, where he was turned over to Officer Haker. The man gave his name as John Leheew, and his residence as Zanesville. He claims to be 39 years old. His hearing will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock. James W. Thorp was arrested Wednesday on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Cora, charging him with the non-support of his three months old daughter, Grace. His case will come up later.
